LEWIS IS A WINNER

Fourteen Votes Between Him and Defeat for Office

MAY ASK FOR RECOUNT

According to the official count of the ballots cast at the recent election Dr. Lewis leads Martin by 14 votes. The totals show that Dr. Lewis received 7,766 votes and that Joe W. Martin received 4,146 Democratic votes and 3,606 Keystone votes a total of 7,752 or 15 too few to defeat Dr. Lewis. The total vote cast for this office was 15,518.

When the return board commenced its work on Thursday the unofficial vote had given Dr. Lewis a plurality of 14 votes. The count by the court reduced this to his present plurality of 14 votes. No errors were found in the totals for Dr. Lewis but all changes came about in the vote cast for Martin, the mistakes being made in addition.

The first change to affect the result was that discovered in the returns from the fifth precinct of Charleroi. Here the triplicate sheet showed eight votes cast for Martin by the Democrats and the tally sheet showed 18. On the return sheet and all triplicate sheets in writing and figures the vote stood at eight. Only the tally sheet showed that the vote was carried out to 18. This gave Martin a gain of 10 votes.

The next change in the vote was found in going over the returns from the first precinct in North Strabane township. Here the triplicate sheets showed 24 Keystone votes for Martin and the tally sheet showed 34. Here again the return and triplicate sheets had 24 and only the tally sheet had 34. The tally sheet was accepted and Martin made another gain of 10 votes. The Lewis vote was then 21.

The next change came in the returns from the fourth precinct of Smith township. Here the return and triplicate sheets gave Martin two Democratic votes and the tally sheet was supreme and Lewis lost nine votes and Martin gained the same number. This left Lewis with 12 votes to the good.

When the returns from the third precinct of Union township were reached the two tally sheets, one of which had no name of the precinct on it, had three Keystone votes for Martin and the other which was properly labeled had only two Keystone votes for Martin. The return board again went on record as accepting the tally sheet in preference to the signed return papers and accepted the tally sheet with the three votes giving Martin another gain of one 11 votes of a margin.

The last change to affect the count was when the second precinct of the second ward of Washington was reached. Here the triplicate sheets showed 59 Keystone votes cast for Martin and the tally sheet only 56. The tally sheet was accepted and Martin lost and Lewis gained three votes making his final margin 14.

Just before the count was completed Friday Albert S. Sprowl, attorney for Candidate Martin, filed a petition with the court asking for a count of California, the home of candidate Martin; Coal Centre, which joins the voting district of California and the second precinct of the second ward of Washington. Attorney Sprowl also added that they reserved the right to name other precincts.

Coal Center Civic League Gets to Work

Conditions of Town Reviewed at Meeting; Violations of Law Claimed

The Civic League of Coal Centre held an enthusiastic meeting in the Presbyterian church last Friday evening. Certain cases of violations of the Sunday Closing Ordinance were discussed and it was decided on repetition of the offense to report the matter immediately to District Attorney C. L. V. Acheson and have steps taken for their apprehension. Members expressed themselves as well pleased at the general conditions prevailing in the town now. There is a noticeable absence of profane language on the streets and the Sunday Closing Ordinance has been well observed with one or two exceptions.

The League was organized September 22 with sixteen members. It is composed of leading citizens of the borough, and their interest in the work is shown by the fact that in its existence of only a little over six weeks it has clamped the lid on tight and completely upset certain long established customs.

STRUCK BY CAR STEP

John McHugh, of Charleroi, Killed by Passenger Train

WARNING IS SOUNDED

John McHugh, aged 46, of Charleroi was hit and killed by a train at Rice's Landing Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Not much mangled, the body was brought home Friday night.

McHugh was a cripple having no left arm and also no right hand. He had been peddling about the country and had left here about three weeks ago. According to the story told of the accident the engineer of the passenger train that arrives in Rice's Landing at 11:17 o'clock saw a man sitting on the end of a tie along the track a short distance below the power house there. He whistled three times but the man did not move and it is supposed he was asleep. The step of a car hit him and he died in a short time. Injuries were all along the left side of his body and a number of ribs were broken.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Interment will be in Cavalry cemetery. A widow, six sisters and one brother survive.

CALIFORNIA VOTES FOR INCREASED SUM

By an overwhelming vote of almost three to one, the citizens of California stamped their approval at the recent election on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $25,000 for the erection of a borough school building. The vote stood 138 for and 47 against the proposition.

MYSTERY DEEPENS IN POLICE CHIEF'S DEATH

Rigid Investigation to be Made Into the Circumstances Surrounding Shooting of William J. Dulaney at County Seat

The mystery surrounding the shooting of William J. Dulaney, chief of police of Washington and captain of Company H, Tenth regiment, N. G. P., grows deeper. When police officers and reporters early Friday morning arrived at the home of Mrs. Rose Lenox on McGeorge avenue and found the officer lying on a coach with a bullet hole through his brain the case bore every appearance of suicide. Miss Ada Lenox, the girl who was with Dulaney when the tragedy occurred, declared the chief had fired the shot, which at 4:15 o'clock Friday morning caused his death in the Washington hospital.

The examination of Chief Dulaney's body at the Ritchie mortuary yesterday together with measurements taken at the scene of the tragedy lead some to assert the physical impossibility of the suicide theory. The point at which the bullet entered the victim's head, the course it followed and the point at which it lodged in the wall combined with the fact that there were no powder marks on the officer's face lead to the belief that it would have been impossible for the man himself to have fired the shot which ended his life.

Early Friday Miss Ada Lenox, the girl who was an eye witness of the tragedy was remanded to the county jail by Coroner Heffran. Her mother, Mrs. Rose Lenox was also locked up, both women being held as witnesses. From the first Mrs. Lenox has warned her daughter not to talk and the girl after being placed in jail most effectively looked to the warning. Where she had talked freely immediately after the shooting a few hours later she refused to make a statement of any sort.

NEWSPAPER MAN BIG ATTRACTION

Strickland W. Gillilan Entertains Big Audience at School School

Virtually bubbling over with good humor and chuck full of good stories, Strickland W. Gillilan, newspaper man, poet, author and lecturer, appeared at School Hall Friday night as the second attraction on the Charleroi Citizens' Entertainment course. He provided entertainment for old and young alike and won a place in the hearts of those of his audience that will not be replaced by any entertainer who may follow.

Mr. Gillilan, known from coast to coast by his humorous and serious writings published in various magazines, likewise by his famous poem "Off agin, on agin, gone agin, Finnekin," chose for his lecture here "Sunshine and Awkwardness." His appearance on the stage was the signal for the breaking forth of laughter. He moved his lips and laughter peeled forth again.

Starting on his lecture, which he said was called a lecture because it wasn't one, Mr. Gillilan by story and poem brought out in his humorous way, many homely truths. He clearly showed the close relation of humor and pathos and of laughter and tears, his poems touching the proper cord of human nature. His lecture was humorous nearly all the way through, but Mr. Gillilan in this manner was enabled to present his points more vividly. He not only entertained his audience but he gave those composing it plenty to think about, which is more than can be said of many lecturers.

Penmanship Systematized

The newly engaged penmanship supervisor for the Charleroi schools, Morris E. Bennett, was here the first time this last week and gave his first instructions in the schools. Mr. Bennett whose home is in Pittsburgh will come to Charleroi two days out of every month. He teaches the arm movement in penmanship. When he was here he met the teachers and went through the schools showing what he wanted done.

MINSTREL CLUB IS ORGANIZED

At a meeting Friday evening the Colonial Minstrel club of young men of Charleroi reorganized to give a minstrel show the coming year. The following officers were elected: Earl Taylor, manager; Edward Miller, secretary; Fred W. Brady, treasurer; Edward Patterson, electrician. Frank Miller will direct the show. It is planned to have brilliant electrical effects for the first part. The minstrel show will include the cast of former years when high-class productions were given.

TROUBLE FROM LOVE AFFAIRS

Widow Followed to Church Even by Devotee--Events Transpire Rapidly

The love affairs of Mrs. Mary Tarcoro, a beautiful Lithuanian widow of Roscoe occupied the attention of the residents of Monongahela Friday. The woman rushed into the office of an alderman accompanied by a fellow countryman named Frank Oniz and they asked that John D. Unrascio be arrested.

The widow explained that her husband had been killed on the railroad last July and that Oniz had been boarding with her since that time and that they were to be married next Tuesday. Unrascio, who resides at Donora, had other plans and sought to be the second husband. He enforced his suit at the point of a revolver and even followed the fair widow into church.

John D. was sent to the lockup to await a hearing before Alderman Day, and in the meantime the others will seek the altar and join forces to battle against the insistent John D.

Interest Increases

The services at the Methodist Episcopal church last night were marked by great interest and spiritual favor. Dr. A. E. Burrows preached on "The Sleeping Church," with great power. At the close of the service a number manifested their desire to lead changed lives.

There will be services in the church tonight when Dr. Burrows will preach on "The Man on the Gridiron." Tomorrow at 10:45 he will preach on "Proving God." In the afternoon at 2:30 he will give an address to men only on "The Shrewd Detective," and at night at 7:30 on "The Knockers." At the Epworth League service at 6:30 Professor Jennings will sing and give a short address. Everybody is welcome to these services.

IMPROVEMENTS BY THE P. & L. E.

The P. & L. E. Railroad company is pushing the work of grading the plot of ground just below the brewery at the lower end of Monessen. A year ago this site was laid out for a round house for the engines which are now stationed, when idle, on the tracks near Second street. Suddenly the work stopped and negotiations were begun with the Western Maryland securing an eastern outlet at Baltimore for the P. & L. E. R. R. The grading now being done is for additional sidings and will afford space for storage of many more cars.

Big Supply of "Spuds" For Winter

Reports from Virginia and Maryland Indicates Good Potato Crop

Indicative of the agricultural resources of the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula—concerning which the Freight Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad has issued a booklet—are figures just published by the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture of Virginia, showing that the value of the trucking crop for this year in Accomac County alone will amount to more than five million dollars.

Accomac is one of the two counties of Virginia situated on the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula. It furnishes five per cent of the sweet potato crop of the United States, planting some twelve thousand acres. One farmer this year has five thousand barrels of sweet potatoes to his credit.

One potato grower in particular on the Eastern Shore of Virginia has come to realize the value of high prices over large crops. Last year he had 25,000 barrels of white potatoes which he sold at an average of a little more than one dollar per barrel. This year he has only 10,000 barrels, for which he will realize five dollars per barrel. His crop this year is worth $25,000. Last year, with two and one-half times the field, it brought about $40,000. In addition he has to hire fewer men to dig and handle the potatoes, and has to buy fewer barrels.

IRREGULAR ELECTION?

Hon. Edward Callaghan Claims There Was Conspiracy

NOT PARTY TO FUSION

If contest proceedings that are threatened, materialize, it is possible that the election just held in Washington county may be declared null and void, and have to be held over again. Former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, but who absolutely refused to enter into a fusion agreement with the Keystone party and as a straightout Democratic candidate received votes at the primary, claims that the refusal to place his name on the official ballot was an act of conspiracy of which he is the victim, and that the ballot printed and voted at the election was an illegal one. By this he claims he was deprived of his constitutional rights, and he proposes to contest the matter in the courts.

As a beginning Mr. Callaghan has drawn up the following petition which he proposes to present to the county court, and which has already been largely signed:

To the Honorable Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Washington County, State of Pennsylvania:

On or before the seventh day of November in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen hundred and eleven, T. B. H. Brownlee, J. Carter Judson and others aided and abetted by one Ernest F. Acheson all residents of Washington County, State of Pennsylvania did conspire to hinder and circumvent the aims, objects, rights, privileges and emoluments of Edward Callaghan, a citizen of the United States and a resident and qualified elector of Fallowfield township, Washington County, State of Pennsylvania, belonging to and appertaining to the office of sheriff of aforesaid County. And we further declare that by reason of said conspiracy an illegal ballot was handed to the said Edward Callaghan by the proper officer of the election house in Fallowfield Township, and we firmly believe that similar ballots were cast in every election precinct having a bracket enclosing the name of Jas. W. Murdock as the Keystone Democratic Candidate for sheriff thereby depriving the said Edward Callaghan from exercising his right as God, his conscience and the Great Democratic party dictates. We therefore pray that the Honorable Court will take this matter up for consideration and declare the Election held on the 7th day of November and year aforesaid null and void and that the County Commissioners be held responsible for the omission of the name of Edward Callaghan from the ballot as the only representative of the Democratic party on and after the 30th of Sept. 1911.

BALLOT REFORM.

The mixup that has ensued in marking ballots at the recent election is further evidence that a simpler method of designating candidates and parties is necessary. As a result of this complication it is apparent that the election does not express the desires of the majority in at least one instance.

While the ballot may appear plain to those who made a study of it before hand the bracketing of several party names against one candidate was confusing to hundreds of voters. In ordinary usage a bracket against a name or item is supposed to embrace everything for that item included in the bracket. Thus it was that hundreds of voters were under the impression they were voting for one candidate when they marked a cross after every square opposite his name, regardless of the fact that each square meant a separate party. The intent of the voter was apparent, even if the action were irregular.

The law specifies that when a candidate is the nominee of more than one party his name shall be printed on the ballot but once, and the names of the parties printed at the right of the candidate in the order of the party strength at the last general election. As the law does not specify the party names shall be bracketed against the candidates name, that point may likely constitute the grounds for a contest. The object of the official ballot is to give all voters an opportunity to express their sentiments, and it should be so arranged in a manner that will afford the least chance for perverting the will of the people.

THE CHICAGO PLAN

Many newspapers are advocating what is known as the Chicago plan. This is a co-operative plan for reducing the cost of living by purchasing food products and staples at wholesale. The movement, which was initiated in Chicago, is being widely followed. The proposition is to form co-operative societies of 100 families each to purchase at wholesale rates, provide proper storage, inspection and distribution at cost. This is designed to save the profits that go to the middleman, or to two or three middlemen, and if it can be made successful, will amount to considerable savings by no means certain how far the Chicago proposition can be worked out, but it is an interesting undertaking and will be watched with wide interest.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

It's quite polite for trusts to do to their own reforming nowadays.

It oftentimes happens that missing men are missing on their own hook.

Now they have something to work for at the big ditch. That is to get through in 1913.

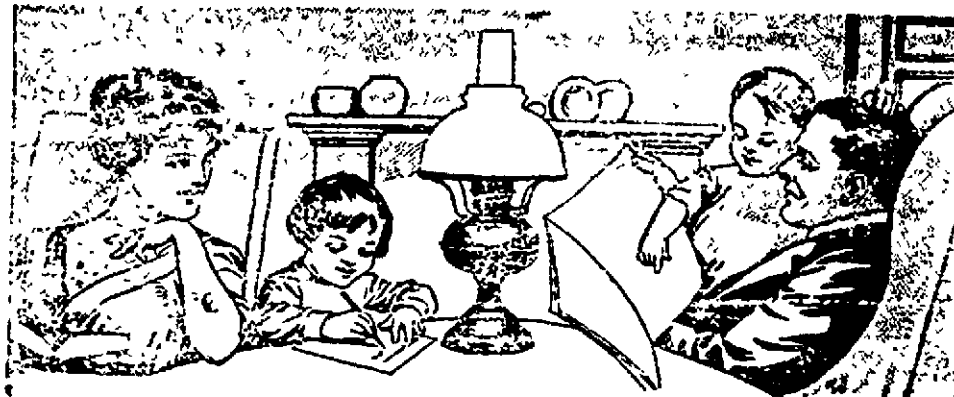

Gabys Deslys is going to write her impression of American ways for a Paris newspaper. If she writes as she dances she will no doubt tell the naked truth.

The next thing to wonder about is who will be the next president of council.

Some men are in such a hurry that they stop the clock at night to save time.

It's sort of tough on Philadelphia to give it so much reform all in a bunch.

Some Philadelphians think Diogenes with his little lantern found his honest man in Blankenburg.

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp. The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient oil stove and the indispensable Rayo Lamp. There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes. Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere. Ask your dealer for a Rayo lamp; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of

PICKED UP IN PASSING GAME PLAYED IN DUCK PIN LEAGUE

Strickland W. Gillilan, who lectured at School Hall Friday night in the Citizen's Entertainment course, is an old newspaper man, and on the afternoon of his arrival paid his respects to the Mail office, where he soon established a bond of fellowship. Mr. Gillilan is well known by the Pittsburgh bunch and spoke very affectionately of Uncle Erasmus Wilson, the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times, who by the way is personally known to many in Charleroi, having lectured here not long ago under the auspices of the Young Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Wilson has been in the Mayo Brothers' hospital at Rochester, Minnesota, where he has undergone a critical operation.

"I learned this in Pittsburgh," said Mr. Gillilan, "and as he was getting along all right, I wrote him a letter felicitating him on his recovery and added that I was pleased to know his fame extended clear out to Minnesota where they had been making 'cuttings' from the 'Quiet Observer.'"

"One of the funniest incidents that occurred when we were out soldiering in the Philippines," said a Spanish-American war veteran at one of the local hotels the other evening, "was a question of toilet, which put all the officers of our division up in the air. I was a member of the Twentieth Kansas, Gen Funston's regiment, and we saw some hot and active service in the Philippine insurrection. During the campaign our regiment was out on a three months' hike, chasing bands of insurgents through the mountains and swamps, and we were up against some tough propositions, much of the time far and away from the bread line. When we got back to division headquarters we were the worst looking gang of rag-muffins you ever saw. In addition to being dirty and ragged, every man of us had a three months' growth of beard, as none took razors along on the hike, and wouldn't have had time to use them if we had."

"When we got back to barracks and cleaned up, some fellow trimmed his beard in a freak manner, which was the signal for a lot of fun. We all followed his example, and the first time we appeared on dress parade, the officers nearly had a fit. In our whole regiment no two presented the same appearance. Some had long Piccadilly weepers, some had rube whiskers, some had goat beards, some were the typical vaudeville Irish, some had curling mustaches and pointed Vandyke beards, some had Buffalo Bill goatees, while others wore Weary Willie face coverings."

"It was the most comical sight you ever saw. The whole regiment resembled a comic opera bouffe, and dressed up smartly, in new clean uniforms, we were greeted with roars of laughter from the other troops. We were hustled back to quarters and an order given for every man to wear either a full beard closely cropped or to appear clean shaven."

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

"Regeneration" was the title of one of the strongest photoplays this week ever presented at the Palace. The subject was much along the same lines as the late Count Leo Tolstoi's great work—"The Resurrection," except that the plot was in modern and supposedly polite society. A man becomes infatuated with a woman for whom he deserts his wife and child. The wife being left destitute finally succumbs to privations and drops dead on the street. The child is rescued by the woman who enticed the husband and father away, and on its identity becoming known, a regeneration takes place. The father finally marries the woman who becomes a second mother to his child. The Pathe Weekly Bulletin was of unusual interest this week. One of the greatest song hits yet made by Miss Helen Atwill was "Beautiful Lady," a selection from the musical comedy of "The Pink Lady." Miss Atwill rendered this melodious selection most charmingly and was repeatedly encored.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

"Mut and Jeff as Reporters" was the subject of Bud Fisher's amusing caricatures transformed into living and moving beings in photoplay at the Star Theatre this week. This pair had some thrilling as well as amusing adventures as seekers of news and afforded rare entertainment to the spectators. "Sherlock Holmes, Jr." was another entertaining picture, while "White Fawn's Peril," "The Double Elopement," "The Rose's Story," "Weighed in the Scale," and other dramas furnished ample entertainment at this popular house. The matinees every afternoon at 2 and on Saturday at 1 afford an opportunity for those who are unable to get out at night.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

High class vaudeville will be presented at the Coyle Theatre tonight in two big acts. Florence Langdon will appear in "The Girl From Vermont." This is a bright and merry skit, in which the versatile Florence shines most brightly. Monahan and Langdon, in a series of singing, talking and dancing sketches, will entertain in a most pleasing manner. This pair is a noted hit on the vaudeville circuit, and once heard is to always be remembered. Ever afterwards their names are sufficient to be a drawing card anywhere they may appear. Moving pictures will round out the bill, and in these the latest and best films are shown. The Coyle is drawing big houses, and all its productions are of the highest order.

CANONSBURG VOTES

FOR A BOND ISSUE

The voters of Canonsburg Tuesday decided by vote of 251 to 82 in favor of bonding the school district for $25,000 for a new school building, and defeated by a vote of 221 to 102 the proposition to issue additional bonds in the sum of $30,000 for the erection of an auditorium in the new building. Canonsburg has no auditorium outside the church auditorium, since the Morgan theatre where so many people lost their lives in a stampede, was abandoned.

LEWIS IS A WINNER

MAY ASK FOR RECOUNT

According to the official count of the ballots cast at the recent election Dr. Lewis leads Martin by 14 votes. The totals show that Dr. Lewis received 7,766 votes and Martin received 4,146 Democratic votes and 3,606 Keystone votes a total of 7,752 or 15 too few to defeat Dr. Lewis. The total vote cast for this office was 15,518.

When the return board commenced its work on Thursday the unofficial vote had given Dr. Lewis a plurality of 41 votes. The count by the court reduced this to his present plurality of 14 votes. No errors were found in the totals for Dr. Lewis but all changes came about in the vote cast for Martin, the mistakes being made in addition.

The first change to affect the result was that discovered in the returns from the fifth precinct of Charleroi. Here the triplicate sheet showed eight votes cast for Martin by the Democrats and the tally sheet showed 15. On the return sheet and all triplicate sheets in writing and figures the vote stood at eight. Only the tally sheet showed that the vote was carried out to 18. This gave Martin a gain of 10 votes.

The next change in the vote was found in going over the returns from the first precinct in North Strabane township. Here the triplicate sheets showed 24 Keystone votes for Martin and the tally sheet showed 24. Here again the return and triplicate sheets had 24 and only the tally sheet had 34. The tally sheet was accepted and Martin made another gain of 10 votes. The Lewis vote was then 21.

The next change came in the returns from the fourth precinct of Smith township. Here the return and triplicate sheets gave Martin two Democratic votes and the tally sheet was supreme and Lewis lost nine votes and Martin gained the same number. This left Lewis with 12 votes to the good.

When the returns from the third precinct of Union township were reached the two tally sheets, one of which had no name of the precinct on it, had three Keystone votes for Martin and the other which was properly labeled had only two. Keystone votes for Martin. The return board went on record as accepting the tally sheet in preference to the signed return papers and accepted the tally sheet with the three votes giving Martin another gain of one 11 votes of a margin.

The last change to affect the count, as when the second precinct of the second ward of Washington was reached. Here the triplicate sheets showed 59 Keystone votes cast for Martin and the tally sheet only 56. The tally sheet was accepted and Martin lost and Lewis gained three votes making his final margin 14.

Just before the count was completed Friday Albert S. Sprowls, attorney for Candidate Martin, filed a petition with the court asking for a recount of California, the home of candidate Martin; Coal Centre, which joins the voting district of California and the second precinct of the second ward of Washington. Attorney Sprowls also added that they reserved the right to name other precincts.

Coal Center Civic League Gets to Work

Conditions of Town Reviewed at Meeting; Violations of Law Claimed

The Civic League of Coal Centre held an enthusiastic meeting in the Presbyterian church last Friday evening. Certain cases of violations of the Sunday Closing Ordinance were discussed and it was decided on reiteration of the offense to report the matter immediately to District Attorney C. L. V. Abelson and have steps taken for their apprehension. Members expressed themselves as well pleased at the general conditions prevailing in the town now. There is a noticeable absence of profane language on the streets and the Sunday Closing Ordinance has been well observed with one or two exceptions.

The League was organized September 22 with sixteen members. It is composed of leading citizens of the borough, and their interest in the work is shown by the fact that in its existence of only a little over six weeks it has clamped the lid on tight and completely upset certain long established customs.

STRUCK BY CAR STEP

John McHugh, of Charleroi, Killed by Passenger Train

WARNING IS SOUNDED

John McHugh, aged 46, of Charleroi was hit and killed by a train at Rice's Landing Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Not much noticed. The body was brought home Friday night.

McHugh was a cripple having no left arm and also no right hand. He had been peddling about the country and had left here about three weeks ago. According to the story told of the accident the engineer of the passenger train that arrives in Rice's Landing at 11:17 o'clock saw a man sitting on the end of a tie along the track a short distance below the passenger house there. He whistled three times but the man did not move and it is supposed he was asleep. The step of a car hit him and he died in a short time. Injuries were all along the left side of his body and a number of ribs were broken.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Interment will be in Cavalry cemetery. A widow, six sisters and one brother survive.

CALIFORNIA VOTES FOR INCREASED SUM

By an overwhelming vote of almost three to one, the citizens of California stamped their approval at the recent election on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $25,000 for the erection of a borough school building. The vote stood 135 for and 47 against the proposition.

MYSTERY DEEPENS IN POLICE CHIEF'S DEATH

Rigid Investigation to be Made Into the Circumstances Surrounding Shooting of William J. Dulaney at County Seat

The mystery surrounding the shooting of William J. Dulaney, chief of police of Washington and captain of Company H, Tenth regiment, N. G. P., grows deeper. When police officers and reporters early Friday morning arrived at the home of Mrs. Rose Lenox on McGeorge avenue and found the officer lying on a couch with a bullet hole through his brain the case bore every appearance of suicide. Miss Ada Lenox, the girl who was with Dulaney when the tragedy occurred, declared the chief had fired the shot which at 4:15 o'clock Friday morning caused his death in the Washington hospital.

The examination of Chief Dulaney's body at the Ritchie mortuary yesterday together with measurements taken at the scene of the tragedy lead some to assert the physical impossibility of the suicide theory. The point at which the bullet entered the victim's head, the course it followed and the point at which it lodged in the wall combined with the fact that there were no powder marks on the officer's face lead to the belief that it would have been impossible for the man himself to have fired the shot which ended his life.

Early Friday Miss Ada Lenox, a girl who was an eye witness of the tragedy was remanded to the county jail by Coroner Heffran. Her mother, Mrs. Rose Lenox was also locked up, both women being held as witnesses. From the first Mrs. Lenox has warned her daughter not to talk and the girl after being placed in jail most effectively looked to the warning. Where she had talked freely immediately after the shooting a few hours later she refused to make a statement of any sort.

NEWSPAPER MAN BIG ATTRACTION

Strickland W. Gillilan Entertains Big Audience at School School

Virtually bubbling over with good humor and chuck full of good stories, Strickland W. Gillilan, newspaper man, poet, author and lecturer, appeared at School Hall Friday night as the second attraction on the Charleroi Citizen's Entertainment course. He provided entertainment for old and young alike and won a place in the hearts of those of his audience that will not be replaced by any entertainer who may follow.

Mr. Gillilan, known from coast to coast by his humorous and serious writings published in various magazines, likewise by his famous poem "Off again, on again, gone again. Finnegun," chose for his lecture here "Sunshine and Awkwardness." His appearance on the stage was the signal for the breaking forth of laughter. He moved his lips and laughter pealed forth again.

Starting on his lecture, which he said was called a lecture because it wasn't one, Mr. Gillilan by story and poem brought out in his humorous way many homely truths. He clearly showed the close relation of humor and pathos and of laughter and tears, his poems touching the proper cord of human nature. His lecture was humorous nearly all the way through, but Mr. Gillilan in this manner was enabled to present his points more vividly. He not only entertained his audience but he gave those composing it plenty to think about, which is more than can be said of many lecturers.

Penmanship Systematized

The newly engaged penmanship supervisor for the Charleroi schools, Morris E. Bennett, was here the first time this last week and gave his first instructions in the schools. Mr. Bennett whose home is in Pittsburg will come to Charleroi two days out of every month. He teaches the aim movement in penmanship. When he was here he met the teachers and went through the schools showing what he wanted done.

MINSTREL CLUB IS ORGANIZED

At a meeting Friday evening the Colonial Minstrel club of young men of Charleroi reorganized to give a minstrel show the coming year. The following officers were elected: Earl Taylor, manager; Edward Miller, secretary; Fred W. Brady, treasurer; Edward Patterson, electrician. Frank Miller will direct the show. It is planned to have brilliant electrical effects for the first part. The minstrel show will include the cast of former years when high-class productions were given.

TROUBLE FROM LOVE AFFAIRS

Widow Followed to Church Even by Devotee—Events Transpire Rapidly

The love affairs of Mrs. Mary Tarcora, a beautiful Lithuanian widow of Roscoe occupied the attention of the residents of Monongahela Friday. The woman rushed into the office of an alderman accompanied by a fellow countryman named Frank Oniz and they asked that John D. Unrascio be arrested.

The widow explained that her husband had been killed on the railroad last July and that Oniz had been boarding with her since that time and that they were to be married next Tuesday. Unrascio, who resides at Donora, had other plans and sought to be the second husband. He enforced his suit at the point of a revolver and even followed the fair widow into church.

John D. was sent to the lockup to await a hearing before Alderman Day and in the meantime the others will seek the altar and join forces to handle agent of the law and John D.

Interest Increases

The services at the Methodist Episcopal church last night were marked by great interest and spiritual favor. Dr. A. E. Burrows preached on "The Sleeping Church," with great power. At the close of the service a number manifested their desire to lead changed lives.

There will be services in the church tonight when Dr. Burrows will preach on "The Man on the Gridiron." Tomorrow at 10:45 he will preach on "Proving God." In the afternoon at 2:30 he will give an address to men only on "The Shrewd Detective." and at night at 7:30 on "The Knock." At the Epworth League service at 6:30 Professor Jennings will sing and give a short address. Everybody is welcome to these services.

IMPROVEMENTS BY THE P. & L. E.

The P. & L. E. Railroad company is pushing the work of grading the plot of ground just below the brewery at the lower end of Monessen. A year ago this site was laid out for a round house for the engines which are now stationed, when idle, on the tracks near Second street. Suddenly the work stopped and negotiations were begun with the Western Maryland carrying on a contest with Baltimore for the P. & L. E. R. R. The grading now being done is for additional sidings and will afford space for storage of many more cars.

Big Supply of "Spuds" For Winter

Reports from Virginia and Maryland Indicates Good Potato Crop

Indicative of the agricultural resources of the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula—concerning which the Freight Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad has issued a booklet—are figures just published by the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture of Virginia, showing that the value of the trucking crop for this year in Accomac County alone will amount to more than five million dollars.

Accomac is one of the two counties of Virginia situated on the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula. It furnishes five per cent of the sweet potato crop of the United States, planting some twelve thousand acres. One farmer this year has five thousand barrels of sweet potatoes to his credit.

One potato grower in particular on the Eastern Shore of Virginia has come to realize the value of high prices over large crops. Last year he had 25,000 barrels of white potatoes which he sold at an average of a little more than one dollar per barrel. This year he has only 10,000 barrels, for which he will realize five dollars per barrel. His crop this year is worth $25,000. Last year, with two and one half times the field, it brought about $40,000. In addition he has to hire fewer men to dig and handle the potatoes, and has to buy fewer barrels.

IRREGULAR ELECTION?

Hon. Edward Callaghan Claims There Was Conspiracy

NOT PARTY TO FUSION

If contest proceedings that are threatened, materialize, it is possible that the election of November 11, 1911, in Washington county may be declared null and void, and have to be held over again. Former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, but who absolutely refused to enter into a fusion agreement with the Keystone party and as a straight-out Democratic candidate received votes at the primary, claims that the refusal to place his name on the official ballot was an act of conspiracy of which he is the victim, and that the ballot printed and voted at the election was an illegal one. By this he claims he was deprived of his constitutional rights, and he proposes to contest the matter in the courts.

As a beginning Mr. Callaghan has drawn up the following petition which he proposes to present to the county court, and which has already been largely signed: To the Honorable Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Washington County, State of Pennsylvania: On or before the seventh day of November in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen hundred and eleven, T. B. H. Brownlee, J. Carter Judson and others aided and abetted by one Ernest F. Acheson all residents of Washington County, State of Pennsylvania did conspire to hinder and circumvent the aims, objects, rights, privileges and emoluments of Edward Callaghan, a citizen of the United States and a resident and qualified elector of Fallowfield township, Washington County, State of Pennsylvania, belonging to and appertaining to the office of sheriff of aforesaid County. And we further declare that by reason of said conspiracy an illegal ballot was handed to the said Edward Callaghan by the proper officers of said township and we firmly believe that similar ballots were cast in every election precinct having a bracket enclosing the name of Jas. W. Murdock as the Keystone Democratic Candidate for sheriff thereby depriving the said Edward Callaghan from exercising his right as God, his conscience and the Great Democratic party dictates. We therefore pray that the Honorable Court will take this matter up for consideration and declare the Election held on the 7th day of November and year aforesaid null and void and that the County Commissioners be held responsible for the omission of the name of Edward Callaghan from the ballot as the only representative of the Democratic party on and after the 30th of Sept. 1911.

BALLOT REFORM

The mixup that has ensued in marking ballots at the recent election is further evidence that a simpler method of designating candidates and parties is necessary. As a result of this complication it is apparent that the election does not express the desires of the majority in at least one instance.

While the ballot may appear plain to those who made a study of it before hand the bracketing of several party names against one candidate was confusing to hundreds of voters. In ordinary usage a bracket against a name or item is supposed to embrace everything for that item included in the bracket. Thus it was that hundreds of voters were under the impression they were voting for one candidate when they marked a cross after every square opposite his name, regardless of the fact that each square meant a separate party. The intent of the voter was apparent, even if the action were irregular.

The law specifies that when a candidate is the nominee of more than one party his name shall be printed on the ballot but once, and the names of the parties printed at the right of the candidate in the order of the party strength at the last general election. As the law does not specify the party names shall be bracketed against the candidates name, that point may likely constitute the grounds for a contest. The object of the official ballot is to give all voters an opportunity to express their sentiments, and it should be so arranged in a manner that will afford the least chance for perverting the will of the people.

THE CHICAGO PLAN

Many newspapers are advocating what is known as the Chicago plan. This is a co-operative plan for reducing the cost of living by purchasing food products and staples at wholesale. The movement, which was initiated in Chicago, is being widely followed. The proposition is to form co-operative societies of 100 families each to purchase at wholesale rates, provide proper storage, inspection and distribution at cost. This is designed to save the profits that go to the middleman, or to two or three middlemen, and if it can be made successful, will amount to considerable savings by no means certain how far the Chicago proposition can be worked out, but it is an interesting undertaking and will be watched with wide interest.

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp. The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient and the safe, portable Rayo Lamp. There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes. Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere. Ask your dealer for a Rayo lamp, or write for descriptive circular to any agency of

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Stickland W. Gillilan, who lectured at School Hall Friday night in the Citizen's Entertainment course, is an old newspaper man, and on the afternoon of his arrival paid his respects to the Mail office, where he soon established a bond of fellowship. Mr. Gillilan is well known by the Pittsburgh bunch and spoke very affectionately of Uncle Erasmus Wilson, the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times who by the way is personally known to many in Charleroi, having lectured here not long ago under the auspices of the Young Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Wilson has been in the Mayo Brothers' hospital at Rochester, Minnesota, where he has undergone a critical operation. "I learned this in Pittsburgh," said Mr. Gillilan, "and as he was getting along all right, I wrote him a letter, felicitating him on his recovery and added that I was pleased to know his fame extended clear out to Minnesota where they had been making 'cuttings' from the 'Quiet Observer'."

"One of the funniest incidents that occurred when we were out soldiering in the Philippines," said a Spanish-American war veteran at one of the local hotels the other evening, "was a question of toilet, which put all the officers of our division up in the air. I was a member of the Twentieth Kansas, Gen. Funston's regiment, and we saw some hot and active service in the Philippine insurrection. During the campaign our regiment was out on a three months' hike, chasing bands of insurgents through the mountains and swamps, and we were up against some tough propositions, much of the time far and away from the bread line. When we got back to division headquarters we were the worst looking gang of rag-muffins you ever saw. In addition to being dirty and ragged, every man of us had a three months' growth of beard, as none took razors along on the hike, and wouldn't have had time to use them if we had."

"When we got back to barracks and cleaned up, some fellow trimmed his beard in a freak manner, which was the signal for a lot of fun. We all followed his example, and the first time we appeared on dress parade, the officers nearly had a fit. In our whole regiment no two presented the same appearance. Some had long Piccadilly weepers, some had rube whiskers, some had goat beards, some were the typical vaudeville Irish, some had curling mustaches and pointed Vanddyke beards, some had Buffalo Bill goatees, while others wore Weary Willie face coverings."

"It was the most comical sight you ever saw. The whole regiment resembled a comic opera bouffe, and dressed up smartly, in new clean uniforms, we were greeted with roars of laughter from the other troops. We were hustled back to quarters and an order given for every man to wear either a full beard closely cropped or to appear clean shaven."

FOR A BOND ISSUE

The voters of Canonsburg Tuesday decided by vote of 254 to 82 in favor of bonding the school district for $25,000 for a new school building, and defeated by a vote of 221 to 102 the proposition to issue additional bonds in the sum of $30,000 for the erection of an auditorium in the new building. Canonsburg has no auditorium outside the church auditorium, since the Morgan theatre where so many people lost their lives in a stampede, was abandoned.
